THE DAILY AVALANCHE

Sanford Conover perjurer, is learning to make shoes in the Albany penitentiary.

Austria is prepared to join the International Monetary Union.

Dr. J. Mason Warren, a well known surgeon and physician of Boston, died on Tuesday.

Two gills of sweet oil will, it is said, neutralize every form of vegetable or mineral poison.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Memphis and Charleston railroad will take place in Huntsville to-morrow.

Charles Kean is better. He has been suffering from a total prostration of the nervous system, brought on by overwork and excitement.

Henry Timmins, a printer in the Sunday Times office, broke his neck Friday morning, at Coney Island, while playing leap frog with some companions.

An Omaha correspondent writes: "The Indians say that General Sherman can talk heap, but no fight. They say that the squaws can drive him and his party with sticks."

John Bull states Lady Dudley's house was left in a fearfully dirty state by her Eastern visitors; but it is said that the Viceroy gave her ladyship a necklace of diamonds worth £20,000.

Hugh McElroy, a discouraged miner in Montana, recently blew out his brains, and a jury returned a verdict "that the deceased committed suicide, and that he did so in self defense."

"One more unfortunate," who had for some time been leading a life of prostitution in Chicago, ended her misery by taking poison in that city on Wednesday night. Her real name was Mary Hepschell.

Kroeger, who draws lager for Milwaukeens, is disgusted to find that his Bismarck letter and baby spoon were played upon him as a trick by a half dozen Tuetons who desired to enjoy some "lager" free. Kroeger, however, has his boy child, and its name is Bismarck.

A New York youth hung himself the other day, but as he felt the halter draw, repented, seized it with both hands to prevent strangulation, and called lustily for help. His mother cut him down, and gave him a flogging.

Editor Bennett, of the Brooklyn Times, had his face smeared with rotten sweitzer kase, by Mayor Kalbfleisch, in a lager beer saloon, the other evening, because the Mayor didn't like something which the Times had said about him.

An old resident of Cedar Valley, Iowa, named Butler, living near Cedar Falls, shot his son last Saturday, inflicting a probably fatal wound. Some of the old man's money was in the son's hands, and he refused to deliver it while his father was drunk. Butler was taken to jail, and died next day of delirium tremens.

The Boston Traveller of Saturday says: We understand an agent of Mr. Dickens arrived by the Cunard steamer Java, yesterday, to make arrangements for Mr. Dicken's second visit to this country. He will give his very popular readings from his own works, and will doubtless meet with a hearty reception from his host of admirers.

Mr. Dundas Drummond had a business dispute with K. W. S. Mckenzie, and meeting that gentleman at a Scotch railway station, called him a d—d liar. Mr. Mckenzie brought an action for libel, laying his damages at £1,000. The jury heard the story and awarded £3,000. Mr. Dundas Drummond has probably discovered that damning in Scotland is an expensive recreation.

A Washington City evening paper says that some time ago the President offered the Commissionership of the Freedmen's Bureau to John M. Langston, a colored lawyer of Oberlin, Ohio, in place of General O. O. Howard. The Tribune's correspondent in that city backs up this canard with another, to the effect that Mr. Johnston had previously offered Langston the position of Minister to Hayti, which the latter refused.

The Chicago Times says of the Hon. John Wentworth, who was thrown out of a buggy lately: "It is now announced that the injury which Mr. Wentworth sustained was 'a fracture of the surgical neck of femur, and stellated fracture of acetabulum,' which seems, says the Cincinnati Commercial, to carry the idea that Mr. Wentworth may previously have been osculating a tumblerum infuscated by an infusiorum of juniperberrium."

A touching instance of family devotion and affection occurred near Rocktown, Illinois, a few days ago, in which a mother and her child, together with her brother and his wife, all perished in attempting to rescue the child and each other from drowning. It appears that the child went into the water beyond its depth, and the others, in following and attempting to rescue it, lost their presence of mind and were also drowned.

An Iowa paper tell the following: "A few days ago, in Keokuk county, a babe six months old was crying lustily, and the mother was perplexed to know what the trouble was. At last, after it seemed almost exhausted, it spoke with startling distinctness, these words: 'Give me a drink of water!' Of course the mother was frightened, but she gave the water, when it immediately went to sleep. The infant had never spoken before, nor has it since. We can vouch for the truth of the above, as we are personally acquainted with the parents of the child."

Stanton, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, when a member of Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet, played the sneak and spy, according to Thurlow Weed, who says the Secretary communicated to Mr. Seward, the acknowledged Premier of Mr. Lincoln, all of Mr. Buchanan's views and movements. His Washington City organ, the Chronicle, acknowledges that Stanton communicated to the Radical leaders of Congress the views and movements of Mr. Johnson. He is a treacherous cuss, and the character of sneak is natural with him. Through the influence of General McClellan he was made Secretary of War, and no sooner was he installed than he set to work to cut General McClellan's throat. It remains to be seen who will be the next victim of his duplicity and treachery.

The trotting race at Detroit, Thursday, between Brown George and running mate against General Butler was won by the team, taking the first, third and fourth heats. The third heat was made in 2:21¼.

Richard Greenwell, formerly a resident of Saulsbury, Maryland, committed suicide on Tuesday of last week by leaping into the Tanticoke river, at Seaford, Delawate, and drowning himself. He had been married but a few days.

On Monday of last week an affray occurred in Petersburg, Virginia, which resulted in Robert Smith, a printer, being shot by Dr. S. H. Prosise. The shot took effect under the right eye of Smith, inflicting a serious but not mortal wound. Dr. Prosise was arrested.

Samantha Proctor, better known as Madame Cora James, has filed her declaration in the Superior Court, in which she brings suit against Ira Y. Munn for breach of the marriage contract, and claims one hundred thousand dollars damages. Mr. Munn is one of Chicago's oldest and most wealthy citizens.

The Sultan, just before his departure from England, sent to Mr. Gye, the manager of the Royal Italian Opera, a snuff box of solid gold. There are 112 smaller brilliants about the box, and it is valued at upward of £1000 sterling. He also sent Mr. Gye £800 in cash, to be used for charitable purposes in connection with the employes of Covent Garden Theater.

Accompanying the new Turkish Minister to the United States are his wife, two secretaries and two purely oriental servants (Nubians), the dress, features and manners of the latter carrying one back to the land of the orient. His first wife was a daughter of Dr. Vallentine Mott, of New York, and his present one is a French lady.

The institution of life assurances is at length about to receive in France its official consecration. By the terms of a bill laid before the legislative body some days before it broke up, there is to be instituted, under the guarantee of the State, a Caisse d'Assurances, to pay, on the death of each assured, to his heirs or assigns, a determinate sum, which cannot exceed 8,000f. To this creation is annexed a similar one for accidents resulting from agricultural or manufacturing labors.

The Financial Situation—Speech of Hon. George H. Pendleton.

A dispatch to the associated press on Saturday briefly mentioned the appearance of Hon. George H. Pendleton upon the stump in the Ohio campaign, and gave the points of his position on the negro and financial questions. The speech was dellvered at Lima, on Thursday of last week. It is a most able effort from one of the ablest public men in the United States. We have a report of it before us, but can find room for only the following clear and convincing view of the financial situation. It will be seen that Mr. Pendleton is for paying off the national debt in greenbacks and consequently choking off the national bank leeches and compelling the lords of the bonds to pay taxes like other people. He says:

The revenues of the Government, derived from taxation in 1866, amounted to nearly $590,000,000. This was a year of peace; the army had been reduced; the navy had been dismissed; the vast military movements had ceased. Yet the expenditure was one hundred millions more than that of England, and one hundred and eighty millions more than that of France. The greatest expenditure of England during the Napoleonic wars, when even Russia was stimulated by her subsidies—when large armies were kept in Spain and on the Continent, never reached £100,000,000—less than $500,000,000. England has thirty-six thousand millions of property as a taxable basis. France has forty thousand millions. The United States have sixteen thousand millions. With less than two-fifths of the taxable property, our people pay largely more taxes. Two years have elapsed since the war ceased. Two sessions—two extra sessions of Congress—have been held. Has any scheme of economy, has any reduction of taxes been proposed? On the contrary, has not the only scheme of finance looked to the increase of the interest bearing debt, and to the increase of expenditure by the increase of interest? The public debt, bearing interest, amounts to twenty-two hundred millions; the interest reaches one hundred and forty millions. When the Republican party came into power the debt was only eighty millions. In five years it has grown to so much, and this notwithstanding the vast annual revenues. Though the principal is considerably less, the annual interest is considerably more than that of Great Britain; and the highest reach of Republican statesmship has been to propose the conversion of greenbacks, which have no interest, into bonds which pay interest in gold, and thus to increase the number of those who do not pay taxes, and to increase the burdens of those who do. The amount of unfunded debt has been estimated at eight hundred million dollars. If this shall be converted into bonds, the interest will amount to forty-eight millions in gold, and this sum will be added to the expenditures. In the meantime the number of national banks will be increased, and the place of greenbacks supplied by national currency. Our Government pays a higher rate of interest than any in Europe. Every dollar of its indebtedness is to be made to pay that rate, and no provision whatever is made for its redemption. This process should cease instantly. These forty-eight millions annually should be saved. The five-twenties should be paid in greenbacks as they mature, or as fast as can be done without too great derangement of the currency. Nearly four hundred millions of them are deposited by the banks as security for their circulation. These can be redeemed without adding one dollar to the currency. The interests on these bonds amounts to twenty-four millions of dollars annually. Add this sum to the forty-eight millions above spoken of, and we have seventy-two millions in gold. Create this into a sinking fund and you can pay the whole debt in sixteen years without adding a dollar to your taxes or increasing your circulating medium. But the condition of your country could bear an increase in the currency. The ravages of war at the South—the destruction of capital there, the loss of houses, horses, cattle, agricultural implements, the scarcity of provisions, the enfranchisement of the negro, the importance of setting the whole population to labor at once—create a demand for more currency. Every interest there would be advanced, by the stimulating effects of an enlarged currency. As fast as this increase could be wisely made, the bonds should be reduced, and the amount thus saved be added to the sinking fund. This is repudiation, I hear somebody say. Not at all. The five-twenty bonds are all payable at the option of the Government after five years. Their very name plainly shows it. They are payable, by the law under which they were issued and according to their face, in greenbacks. They are not payable in gold. The interest is, according to the provision of law and the language of the coupon, to be paid in gold. Not so with the principal. The ten-forty bonds authorized by the act of March 3, 1863, are by the terms of the law, made payable in gold. This is the only class of bonds of that character; and as I read the last official statement of Secretary McCulloch, very few, if any of them, have been issued. The Government may then, according to the terms of the law and of its contracts, pay the five-twenties in greenbacks at any time after five years from their issue, and there is no repudiation in doing so. Of this class there were outstanding on the first of August eleven hundred millions, and they mature probably in nearly equal proportion in each of the next five years. This will not supersede the necessity for high taxes, for close economy, for continuous industry. They are inevitable. With them, and whatever other plans wisdom may suggest, the burden will pass heavily upon you and your children. I have shown that the redemption of the bonds will soon be gradual, the interest coming so slowly that values will adjust themselves and business interests become regulated without that shock which usually attend great changes of financial policy. But, if it were not so, still the bonds should be converted into greenbacks. They were sold for greenbacks; it is fitting they should be redeemed in the same currency. This policy would save the interest, pay the debt, and bring upon the duplicate for taxation that immense amount of capital which is now exempt. And these advantages would amply compensate for the evils which are predicted. The debt amounts to one-fifth of the property, real and personal, of the whole country. One-fifth of the capital of the country is exempt from taxation. Interest eats up the substance of the people. Exemption from taxation aggravates the evil. This state of things cannot last. It oppresses labor; it excites discontent. It ought to be relieved by a fair and voluntary adjustment. It will be relieved at all events. The bondholder should be prompt and wise. The people already believe this curse is the blight of death, and we know by experience what they will do to "save the life of the nation."

LOCAL NEWS.

A GAY ONE AT CORINTH.

Forgery of United States Drafts.

The Forger Arrested—Miscegenation.

CORINTH, MISS., August 22, 1867.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: Our city has been the scene of much excitement, and the arena of great rascality. Some few months ago, a man professing to be from New Orleans, but having the unmistakable marks of Massachusetts origin upon his sanctimonious face, came here to teach the "young (African) idea how to shoot," under the auspices of the Freedmen's Bureau and Abandoned Lands. He gave his name as the Rev. (?) George Hamilton, and was careful to let our citizens know that he hated the nigger, but was willing to sacrifice himself and become a "nigger teacher" because he thought that the South should have the negroes educated, so as to enable them to resist and understand the intrigues of the Radical Congressmen, and their party, by means of the pamphlets, papers and other documents of the "Union Congressional Committee," that are so numerously distributed throughout the South. He commenced his school, and succeeded very well, and by his well counterfeited story of Southern birth, etc., soon gained the confidence of the community. He began [illegible] numerous little bills at the [illegible]ves in town, occasionally paying a [illegible] them, until he thought all was right, and [illegible]ded in writing a will." Some few days [illegible] contest arrested, at the instance of a likely young [illegible]an, for using the solitude of his [illegible] room, after the [illegible]s were [illegible] for the purpose than legitimate business. [illegible] was brought before the Mayor's Court, and the following facts substantially found: It seems that this woman and another, named Asia, are rivals for this sanctimonious scoundrel's affections, and she, finding that this Asia held the highest place, flew into a rage, and after a few words, not deep, but loud, with the aforesaid [illegible], reported her and the Provost (?) for miscegenation. Hamilton, on being questioned, did not deny the soft impeachment, but pleaded in defense that he intended to educate the niggers. Upon good evidence of his sincerity [illegible] (if he believe he intended to do so) he was released on that condition. A few days after, he entered the book store of Mr. A. M. Smith, and purchased a book of drawings. Monday afternoon last he went round to some of the men to whom he was indebted, and informed them that he would call around that evening and settle his little bill. He also called at some drug stores and individuals to the amount of over $600, and it may be a still larger sum. He is possessed by evil spirits, or, as Johnny Crapo would say, Il a le diable au corps.

VIDE ET CREDE.

An Unfair Attack.

An esteemed personal friend who was a passenger recently over the Memphis and Ohio railroad wishes us to publish an explanatory response to a recent unfair attack made by a correspondent of the Appeal upon sundry parties. Our friend and correspondent says "This high fed writer for a daily paper made no complaint while eating at the Nelson House at Brownsville, his supper. Why he didn't we cant conceive when there was only beefsteak, ham and eggs, fried chicken, potatoes, hot rolls, corn bread, spongecake, blackberry jelly, tea, coffee, bread, butter and pickles, but he was not deadheaded, and he and two other fellows wanted the landlord to send out coffee and tea to ladies in the cars. One wanted one cup of tea sent out, a second wanted twelve cups of coffee sent out, and a third wanted three cups of tea and three of coffee sent out. They were told that as all the tables in the dining room were full, and the waiters very busy, it was not convenient to send coffee and coffee to the cars, and that it was not done except in cases of sickness. The fellows were indignant. They either had to bring the ladies into the dining room and pay for their suppers, or let them go without their cups of tea. They preferred the latter. To be revenged this attack was made in the Appeal. It denounced the supper as not good enough—the attendance as very bad—the refusal of the landlord to do as they wished as insolent. This is the first newspaper attack that has ever been made on the Nelson House, and those who travel the Memphis and Ohio railroad know that it is a good, well kept house. This has been again and again said during the past year by attaches of the different Memphis papers. The correspondent of the Appeal was no less unjust in his flings at the conductor and attaches of the railroad. The water tanks were all filled as usual before leaving Memphis, but as there was a large train the supply was consumed, and there was no opportunity to have the tanks refilled. Mr. Jones, the conductor referred to, is a competent, courteous and attentive gentleman, who needs no defence from anonymous attacks. Circumstances may readily give, at times, an erroneous impression, and if the writer of the attack referred to is a gentleman further inquiry by him will induce him to regret his hasty and unjust attacks.

ITEMITAS.

The city is, at this time, extremely healthy. Doctors and undertakers complain of dull times.

The putting down the Nicolson pavement on Court street was completed yesterday.

Electricity is said to be in many cases an excellent remedy for rheumatism.

Citizens already own Taylor, Mclain & Co. a hundred thousand dollars for paving that they have done.

The citizens of Big Creek are to have a grand tournament on September 5th, and the proceeds are to be devoted to benevolent purposes. The Hon. A. H. Douglas is to be the orator on the occasion.

The street railroad track on Main street is to be taken up this week, and the work of paving at once begun.

A prominent legal gentleman addresses us to sustain the course of 'Squire Black as strictly legal in the case of the parties brought here from Cuba.

The attention of the Police is called to the great annoyance experienced by respectable citizens from blacks collecting on Sundays upon an open lot on Beale street, and there playing base ball.

It is said that a number of teachers and officers of our public schools have been asked to parse "three times five are fifteen," and not one of them has yet succeeded in doing it.

Nothing has yet been done towards cleaning the gas lamps of the city, which are so dirty that scarcely a scintilla of light passes through the glass. It is shameful that these lamps are only cleaned once in twelve months.

At a grand fishing match which came off recently in Lake Minnetonka, Minnesota, V. B. Waddell, Esq., of this city was the victor. He took over 1000 fish with a single hook and line.

The rubbish left after paving Center alley, is quite a nuisance, and the Street Commissioner will render a great service to the public by clearing it away promptly.

Continued complaints are made of the firing of guns and pistols at all hours of the night in different parts of the city. Six times on Friday night guns were fired near the corner of Wellington and Beale streets.

One of the present County Commissioners is very uneasy. He has discovered that it is the fixed purpose of the Radical party here to have an election at no distant day for County Commissioners, and he fears that in that event he can't get the Presidency of the Board—perhaps not even a place as Commissioner.

During the week just ended, the Coroner has been called to hold inquests on the bodies of six different blacks killed by persons of their own color. The giving free scope to the passions and appetites of an ignorant and degraded race and their unrestrained liberty to be just as vicious and sensual as they desire, is rapidly destroying the blacks and calls for the sympathy and active efforts of philanthropists.

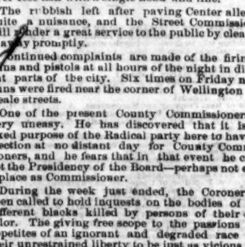
GROVER & BAKER'S
CELEBRATED
ELASTIC STITCH & LOCK STITCH



SEWING MACHINES

Why the Grover & Baker Machine is Best.

1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to derangements than others.
2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no rewinding of thread is necessary.
3. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most delicate and heaviest, and with all kinds of thread, silk, cotton or linen.
4. Its seam is so strong and elastic that it never breaks, even on the bias.
5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.
6. Its seam, though cut at every stitch, remains firm, and neither runs nor ravels in wear.
7. Its seam is more pliable and beautiful, and retains its plumpness and beauty after washing better than any other.
8. Its seam can be removed in altering garments, after proper instruction, without picking or cutting' them.
9. Watching and placing the tensions on the threads necessary in other machines, is unnecessary in this. The tensions being once adjusted on the Grover & Baker machine, any amount of sewing may be done without change.
10. It makes beautiful embroidery with or without the use of an expert, simply by inserting threads of suitable sizes and colors for this purpose. It is the only machine that will embroider and sew perfectly.

AGENTS WANTED—$75 to $200 PER MONTH—Agents wanted everywhere, male and female, to sell the genuine new improved COMMON SENSE FAMILY SEWING MACHINE—price only $5. Every machine warranted three years. They are the greatest invention of the age and give perfect satisfaction. For circulars and terms to agents, address S. M. TOLIVER & CO., Franklin, Ky., Manufacturers and General Agents for the South.

WANTED—An experienced HOUSEKEEPER. None need apply without good references.
D. BRYSON, Commercial Hotel.

WANTED—By a Lady, a situation as Teacher, either in a family or private school. Address H., Avalanche office.

AGENTS WANTED—Ten to twenty dollars a day, to introduce our new patent FAMILY SHUTTLE SEWING MACHINE. Price $15. Stones two threads, and makes the genuine Lock stitch. All other low priced machines make the Chain Stitch. Each Agent furnished with a copy of Letters Patent. Exclusive territory given. Send for circulars.
M. M. BEACH & CO.,
294 Second street, Memphis, Tenn.

SITUATION WANTED—A Lady in Memphis desires employment, either in a public school or a private family as TEACHER. She can be commanded either in the city or country. The most satisfactory references can be given. Apply at the Avalanche office.

WANTED—A widow lady wishes boarding in a private family, where there are no other boarders. Address
J. A. S., Postoffice.

WANTED—THE PATENT AURORA OIL.—WE WANT men everywhere to study their own interest. The right to manufacture and sell the Patent Aurora Oil in a single county will make more money for the purchaser in three months than the largest farm in that State will make in a whole year. The Aurora Oil actually costs less than one half the price of coal oil, and the illuminating power of the Aurora Oil is as great as the best of the coal oil, and is to a below candle, and is no more explosive than a tallow candle. Any lamp that will burn coal oil will burn the Aurora Oil. It does not smoke the chimney—it does not smell—it will not grease or stain the finest linen—but even white cloth. The material for its manufacture is inexhaustible. One man can make seventy-five barrels per day. No machinery required. We will buy your lace to and from the city of Memphis and this white here, if we cannot prove all, and even more, than what we have stated. A single county in a small fortune to the man of enterprise and the right to a State is untold wrath.

TUESDAY, : : : : AUGUST 27, 1867

THE Cincinnati Enquirer, which has always been edited with great ability, was the first paper to break ground in favor of taking up the Government bonds and paying them off with greenbacks. It is the most plausible theory by which the immense impending public debt can ever be paid. The debt itself hangs like a millstone around the neck of the nation. A certain "privileged few" were entitled to invest in Government bonds, lending their money to the Federal Government when the latter was "hard up," and taking the chances of interest with a most remote possibility of ever receiving the principal. We like the idea of taking up the public debt with greenbacks. The debt was incurred for greenbacks. "Greenbacks" was all the money, currency, or whatever you may choose to call it, that the people of the United States had. We, the States, having been reduced to a provincial condition, with an ever-impending Federal Government, that determines what it wills, are without remedy. We feel every day the enormous burden we bear, and perceive no way of avoiding it—there is no escape. The industry of the country is oppressed. There is no mode of redress. The bondholders only are exempt. They sap the very vitals of the country. Freed from taxation, they draw their revenue in gold, thereby realizing forty cents additional on the dollar, while the workingman incurs the same amount of loss. The effort being made to return to specie payments, we are informed, has enabled the Secretary of the Treasury to reduce the circulation some hundreds of millions, but it is a slow process, and we seem no nearer the desideratum than at the commencement. The proposition to take up the bonds as rapidly as possible by reducing them in "greenbacks," will at once release the people from oppressive taxation by multiplying the sources whence taxes may be derived. The sixteen hundred millions of bonds untaxed, reduced to what Congress considered money in business transactions, would be a great relief. This of itself, would be equal to one-half the required revenue, to meet the obligations assumed by the Government. The reduction of the circulation brings us no nearer the point proposed to be reached. It merely makes the interchange of commodities more restricted, and curtails the facilities with which the buying and selling is done. When we reflect that over two hundred millions have been withdrawn from circulation, within a single quarter, and there is a call for interest of nearly a million a day, the pressure upon the people of every class and every phase of industry, may be properly estimated. Every bond taken up, will not only reduce the amount of interest, but converted into money, will become taxable, and add just so much to the revenue. The idea of returning to specie "payments" is chimerical; and while we would adhere to the good old doctrine of keeping our expenses "a span within our means," we can see no favorable result in contracting circulation, when the whole circulation is inadequate to the daily operations and the demands of Government. From the Enquirer of the 23d we get some interesting facts: "Since the first day of June of the present year three hundred and seventy millions of public securities at maturity and payable, principal and interest, in currency, have been redeemed with public securities payable principal and interest in gold—redeemed at a premium to the holder. This virtual addition of forty per cent.—as calculated from present data—equal to one hundred and forty-eight millions of dollars—was made by the Secretary of the Treasury, in a space of a little over two months, upon his own responsibility, and for the benefit of the public credits. How long the country can bear financial operations like these, is a question of interest; and it should be borne in mind that they who oppose the only antagonist policy now before the people—that advocated by the Enquirer—do it at the cost of virtually giving their influence to sustain that which is now in operation."

WHATEVER may be said of little PHIL. SHERIDAN, he is profound in strategy. He has beat his antagonists, the President and all, with one of those master strokes which, used successfully at a critical moment, make military men great. The order superseding him as monarch of the military division composed of Louisiana and Texas, after high debate between the President and General GRANT, was formally and solemnly announced. The public breathed free, for once in a long time, because it was announced that the President "had put his foot down" in spite of the protest of General GRANT. The news reached New Orleans and everybody was elated, but strange to say little PHIL. showed not the least concern. He was then, as ORPHEUS C. KERR says, contemplating a profound piece of "strategy, my boy." He desired a few days more of power to get even with some officials, (ex-Confederates,) who had indiscreetly exulted over what they supposed was his final decapitation. He immediately set the telegraph to work and frightened the Government with a yellow fever epidemic. General THOMAS' Medical Director, who evidently is not fond of yellow fever—hearing of SHERIDAN'S dispatch—from his cool, healthy quarters at Louisville, telegraphs to Washington that the General is absent in West Virginia, is in bad health, and that it would be exceedingly dangerous for him to go South at this time. Little PHIL'S strategy worked. In yesterday's dispatches it is announced that the order relieving General SHERIDAN is suspended on account of the ill health of Major General THOMAS. It is probable that this suspension may not last more than a few days; but in the mean time SHERIDAN'S guillotine may be actively worked, and a parting and lasting impression made by him upon the good people of New Orleans, who so thoroughly despise him. Already, since his first notice of decapitation, he has removed some five or six corporation officers of high prominence, and ordered his Radical Board of Aldermen to elect the men to succeed them. At any moment we may expect to hear of the decapitation of General HARRY HAYS, as Sheriff, because he associated with General ROUSSEAU on his recent visit to New Orleans. Such is little PHIL'S strategy. He needed a little time, and he has gotten it.

THE Louisville Democrat, in speaking of the complaint of General SHERIDAN, that General ROUSSEAU has been interfering in his Department, says:

It has not been a great while since General Rousseau caned a Congressional blackguard in Washington, and, under proper provocation, he might possibly be induced to cane a military blackguard in New Orleans. Unlike Sheridan, General Rousseau was a gentleman before he wore shoulder straps, and he can resign and live like a gentleman, as before, a feat which "little Phil." would find utterly impossible.

That is cruel to the epauletted gentleman who is hereby set down as "no gentleman," showing that shoulder straps are not indicative of that rank. There never was a more puerile, whining, babyish complaint than that which relieved the rough raider. Besides, it was wholly destitute of truth—a commodity once considered inseparable from a soldier, but honor is only second-rate now, when such fellows as SHERIDAN and SICKLES are bubbled up to the top of the cauldron.

Alfred Brown, a negro, whipped his wife to death near Gordon, Georgia, week before last.

The cotton crop of eight counties in Texas is almost an entire failure.

The people of Dyer county anticipate trouble from the negroes in their midst, and are preparing for defence.

The Rev. George H. Doane, of the Diocese of Newark, New Jersey, acknowledges the receipt of $8000, collected for the benefit of the Pope in his Diocese.

The Connecticut Home Insurance Company has commenced a suit against J. Condit Smith for seven thousand dollars, for seizing cotton while acting as United States Treasury Agent in Alabama.

During the performance of Robinson's circus at Norfolk, Virginia, Thursday, a portion of the seats gave way, participating about two hundred people to the ground, and seriously injuring three ladies.

The friends of Mr. Seward say that the moment he ascertained that the Intelligencer's demand for his resignation has not originated with an irresponsible outside pressure, but is dictated from the White House, he will tender his resignation without waiting for a letter from the President telling him that his time has come.

The vote of Kentucky has been officially announced. For Helm, the Democratic candidate for Governor, 90,225; for Barnes, the Radical candidate, 83,939; for Kinkead, the Third-party candidate, 13,167. Helm's majority over Barnes, 56,266; over Kinkead, 77,058; over both, 43,099. The whole vote of the State was 187,351.

The Daily Laborer is the title of a new one cent daily just started in Baltimore by General Duff Green.

The order suspending Judge Holt, it is said, is prepared, and only waiting a conference with General Grant to be issued.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 26.—It is not true that that there has been a general resignation by the Cabinet officers. The intelligence is evidently founded on the fact that, several members of the Cabinet have repeatedly intimated to the President their willingness to retire at any time he might desire it.

The French and Spanish Ministers who went on a trip to Yorktown and Fortress Monroe, on Friday, have returned. F. M. Seward, Assistant Secretary of State will arrive here to-night.

It is probable that the Dominican Republic has sent a messenger to Washington to treat for the sale of Samana to the United States, but he has not yet arrived here.

General Rousseau, in his letter to General Grant, says:

So much of General Sheridan's charges, alledging I visited his command and interfered with his duties, is false. As to suggesting his removal, I did say, in answer to a telegram from Washington, inquiring how things looked in Louisiana, that the state of affairs was gloomy; that people were much depressed, and any change would almost universally be accepted.

The telegram referred to matters and things in general, and was intended as such, including General Sheridan in the scope. If this was suggesting that officer's removal, all well and good; but his name was not mentioned. Whilst I claim the right, in common with all others, to criticise as much of General Sheridan's administration as is not purely military, and which solely concerns the civil policy of the country. Yet on my late visit to New Orleans I scrupulously refrained from doing so, and so far as I know and remember I expressed no opinion against his policy to anybody in his district. I had no purpose or motive so to do, and my recollection, I think, is as distinct about this matter as it usually is or can be about anything.

The following is Grant's reply to the President:

HEADQUARTERS U. S. ARMIES,
WASHINGTON, August 17.

His Excellency Andrew Johnson, President of the United States:

SIR: I am in receipt of your order of this date, directing me to appoint General G. H. Thomas to the command of the Fifth Military District, General Sheridan to the Department of the Missouri, and General Hancock to the Department of the Cumberland, and also your note of this date, inclosing these instructions: "To carry into effect the inclosed order, I would be pleased to hear any suggestions you may deem necessary respecting the assignments to the commands under you." I am pleased to avail myself of this invitation to urge earnestly, in the name of the patriotic people, who have sacrificed hundreds of thousands of lives and thousands of millions of treasure to preserve the integrity of this country, that this order be not issued. It is unmistakably the expressed wish of the country that General Sheridan should not be removed from his present command. This is a Republic, where the will of the people is the law of the land. I beg that their voice shall be heard. General Sheridan has performed his civil duties faithfully, and his removal will only be regarded as an effort to defeat the laws of Congress. It will be interpreted by the unreconstructed element of the South—those who did all they could to break up this Government by arms, and now wish to be the only element consulted as to the method of restoring order and peace, it will embolden them to renew opposition to the will of the loyal masses, believing that they have the Executive with them. The services of General Thomas, in battling for the Union, entitle him to some consideration. He has repeatedly entered his protest against being assigned to either of the five Military Districts, and especially to being assigned to relieve General Sheridan, General Hancock ought not to be removed from where he is. His department is a complicated one, which will take a new commander some time to become acquainted with. There are military reasons, pecuniary reasons, and above all, patriotic reasons why this order should not be issued. I beg to refer to a letter marked "private," which I wrote to the President when first consulted on the subject of change in the War Department. It bears upon the subject of this removal, and I had hoped it would have prevented it.

I have the honor to be, with great respect,
Your obedient servant,
U. S. GRANT, Gen. U. S. Army,
And Sec'y of War ad interim.

THE mutual system has deservedly become the most popular mode of insurance in the United States, and is the one embraced by those best informed upon the subject, and who appreciate and desire security, perpetuity and economy. In a purely mutual company the assured derives all the advantages which can be realized from an insurance, and at the lowest rates, or exact cost, paying no profits or profits to the proprietors or stockholders for, perhaps, an inadequate capital or security. Uhese are combined with security, and a certainty of accomplishing the object in view, are the essential elements sought for, and they may be found eminently existing in a well conducted mutual. All parties insuring in this Company become members of the Company and are directly interested in its success.
Call at the office of the Company for full information, whereby all real estate insurers can save FIFTY per cent. of their insurance accounts.

A Card.

WE will at once rebuild our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of September, but by the first day of that month we will be ready to receive goods on storage.
The sheds will be divided into five proof compartments by brick walls, and covered with tin. These rooms have answered us for the last two seasons, and those who may desire to do so the approaching one, may rest assured we will be ready for them.
We design establishing a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouse, upon an adjacent lot, which will be ready by the 1st of October or sooner. The proximity of our establishment to the river renders the handling of cotton so convenient that we can transfer cotton for shipment by river free of drayage. The advantages of this point to receive goods at one drayage and all cotton sent for compression from other warehouses, while on all cotton in our warehouses for compression there can be two drayages saved, since it would be as easy for us to transfer it from our shed to the Compress as to turn it out in the ordinary way for transfer by drays.

FRENCH MEDICINES PREPARED BY GRIMAULT & COMPANY
Chemists to His Imperial Highness Prince Napoleon.

THESE different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of chemistry and therapeutics. They cannot be counterfeited with success by other manufacturers, as in the manufacturing process there exists a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised to the public, powers no ability to cure every possible disease, and their use applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most of these medicines are called, in France, with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine, and have been proved effective, either in the hands of its members or by the practice of the first medical men, are authorized by the government. This does not mean to a guarantee for the excellency of Messrs. GRIMAULT & CO.'s medicines.

FOREIGN IMMIGRATION.—We had a visit yesterday, from the Rev. Herman Bokum, of East Tennessee, who comes to the city well recommended, with a view of promoting a thoroughly devised system of German emigration which he has been maturing for some time. A German himself, with a year's experience in the Immigration Bureau of the State Department, at Washington, he is thoroughly conversant with the subject. Mr. Bokum has in contemplation, on the subject, which he hopes to have out in a few days.

Calicoes full nice style at 12½ cents at J. H. Lowenstine & Bros., No. 231 Main street.

PREPARING FOR THE FALL TRADE.—Determined that the immensity, variety and cheapness of their stocks shall make it to the advantage of country dealers within a radius of hundreds of miles to buy all their goods in this market, the great firm of J. H. Lowenstine & Brothers has just sent the popular member of the institution, David C. Lowenstine, on East, with carte blanche to buy from manufacturers, by the case, for cash, such a stock of goods as will have no superior in Memphis. David C. will do all that is required of him. He has a thorough knowledge of goods, great experience in business, and familiar acquaintance with the Memphis market.

Good calicoes, full assortment at 12½ cents at J. H. Lowenstine & Bros., No. 231 Main street.

Calicoes at ten cents at J. H. Lowenstine & Bros., Clay building.

ATTENTION.—A Grand Picnic by the Robert Emmet Circle, Fenian Brotherhood, will be given at the head of Vance street, on Wednesday, the 28th instant, in honor of the union of the Brotherhood in Europe and America. The members of the Circle are requested to meet at their hall, corner Jackson and Main streets, on Tuesday evening, to make arrangements for the picnic. By order of the Center, CAPTAIN CONLON.

WORSHAM HOUSE.—In all our notices of the Worsham House, that elegant place of entertainment, where the country gentleman always feels at home, we have neglected a word about Johnny Ball. The reason is obvious. Feeling distrustful of ourself, we placed our discretion under the tutelage of the great temperance movement. We are happy to state the fact that it has had the most favorable impression, and within a very short period several drinking saloons have closed. Joe Oshei still keeps open the Crystal Palace, and feels a host of cheap boarders, with "the best the market affords," on cheaper terms than any boarding house in the city. But we wanted to say a word or two for Johnny Ball. He used to be of the White House, where our old friend Nick Carolin presided. We first knew Johnny there, and he was a general favorite. He has since had many vicissitudes, but looks as young and fresh as ever. He knows how "a smash" should be made. You may believe it.

MRS. CUTHBERT'S BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES, Nos. 1418 and 1420, Pine street, St. Louis, Missouri.—This institution will re-open Monday, September 9th, 1867. During the past year the number of pupils nearly reached the limit assigned by the Principal, as it is her purpose to take only those under her care who will receive her personal oversight and direction in their studies. With a full corps of carefully selected and experienced teachers, the course of instruction will be thorough and comprehensive, combining a useful and accomplished English education, with the practical acquisition of the French language, which is the language of the family. The services of Madame Grandjean, for twenty years the head of the celebrated Pensional Institute, Sausanne, Switzerland, having been secured as resident French teacher, the Principal feels that she is enabled to offer advantages in the acquisition of the French language superior to any Institution of the West. Parties who commit their daughters to the care of the Principal, as members of her household, may rely with perfect confidence upon her regard for their welfare, as it is her aim to realize as nearly as possible in the school the idea of a refined, attractive and religious home.

For further particulars apply to Mrs. Eugenia Cuthbert, 1,418 and 1,420 Pine street, St. Louis, Missouri.

MOBILE AND OHIO RAILROAD.

Good News to the Traveling Public.

A telegraphic dispatch received last evening, from Jackson, Tennessee, states that the difficulties with the operatives on the Mobile and Ohio railroad have been satisfactorily settled, and that trains will run regularly on and after to-day, (Tuesday). This will gratify the business and traveling public, who have been put to much inconvenience and loss by the sudden suspension of circulation in that great artery of transportation.

A United States Tobacco Inspector Decapitated.

The Revenue Department has just decapitated Mr. D. Black, the late Tobacco Inspector in this district, for malpractice in his office. The Collector of the district, Rolfe Saunders, Esq., is always on the alert for violations of the law, when either citizens "take the risk" or officers whose duty it is to execute the laws violate them. Mr. Black was, it seems, running his branch of the machine according to his own construction, and was not according to the law as the Collector construed it, so he reported the facts to the authorities at Washington, and Mr. Black's head rolled off his shoulders so quickly that he scarce felt the pain until it was over. As an episode in the first act of this drama, the Collector remonstrated with Mr. Black for one of his transactions, and Mr. Black, feeling strong, possibly, in the fact that he has a lot of relations in Federal offices, insulted the Collector. Those who know the Collector personally need not be told that he is too gallant a man to take an insult calmly. He wanted to give Mr. Black a lesson in politeness. Mr. Black didn't want to be taught politeness in that way. They went in lively, and had it nip and tuck for a few minutes, and then Mr. Black, being entirely satisfied, got up and retired, while the Collector resumed his official duties.

LAW COURT.—Court met yesterday pursuant to adjournment, the Hon. Thomas G. Smith presiding.

Mr. S. R. Garrison was sworn in as a practicing attorney of this Court.

JAMES R. CHRISTIAN & Co., COTTON WAREHOUSE, NAVY YARD.—We are pleased to be able to inform the public that this most excellent firm of clever and high-toned gentlemen have so far recovered from their recent disaster as to have their shed sufficiently rebuilt for the reception of cotton. We commend them to the public patronage, for certainly there are not two gentlemen anywhere more entitled to it than Dr. Christian and ex-Mayor Baugh.

The genial Captain J. Harvey Mathes, who was for a long time one of the most fluent writers and accomplished gentlemen attached to the Memphis daily press, and who had more friends and fewer enemies than any other editor or reporter in our city, is here, en route to the central and Eastern part of our State. His many friends will greet him heartily. Mr. Mathes had been for some time connected with that excellent and live paper, the Louisville Courier.

RALEIGH SPRINGS.—The several members of the press who availed themselves of the courtesy of Mr. Peyton, Assistant Superintendent of the Memphis and Ohio railroad, and Mr. Asa Hill, Passenger Agent of the same road, had reason to congratulate themselves for a day of rare enjoyment, on Sunday, and we shall remember it when it shall have been calendered "lang syne." Why should our citizens seek distant spots for the enjoyment of pure air and health inspiring waters, when they have Raleigh so near at hand? The Memphis and Ohio railroad, under its excellent and liberal management, affords every facility and accommodation, and it is clearly perceptible that Raleigh, in the near future, is to be the great watering place, connected with our proud city of the bluffs. The "busses" of the Transfer Company are always at hand; at least we found them so, and return our acknowledgments for the courtesy. The crowded state of our columns precludes a full report of our trip.

Strayed from the City wharf-boat, foot of Monroe street, Saturday evening, a bright bay mare pony, about thirteen hands high, switch tail; paces under the saddle. A liberal reward will be paid for her return to the City wharf-boat. 2t

RIVER NEWS.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
TUESDAY, August 27, 1867.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

Weather warm and sultry, with strong indications of rain, which is much needed. The river here is falling steadily, with the channel from here to Cairo cutting out. The Belle Memphis reports nine feet on Plum Point Bar. The Ohio is falling with only three feet water in the lower Ohio. The Arkansas is receding, with only three feet scant on the bars to Little Rock. White river is getting down to its summer standard.

ARRIVALS.

Steamer Paulina Carroll, St. Louis.
" Virginia, St. Louis.
" Belle Memphis, St. Louis.
" Henry Ames, New Orleans.
" Natoma, Vicksburg.
" Commercial, White river.
" City of Alton, St. Louis.
" Mollie Hambleton, St. Francis river.

DEPARTED.

Steamer Paulina Carroll, New Orleans.
" Virginia, New Orleans.
" Henry Ames, St. Louis.
" Belle Memphis, St. Louis.

IN PORT.

City of Alton, Gleaner, Commercial, Natoma, Mollie Hambleton.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The weather continues sultry, and the dust of August still occupies its reign. We hear of rains in every direction but ours. It is an ill wind that blows nobody good, and we wish one of those winds would give us a gentle rain for a few hours. We have had a month's respite, and "the clerk of the weather" has been out of sorts.

Business has been looking up and a decided improvement may be anticipated, although the stringency in money continues. With the prospect of the incoming crop, the countenances of our merchants look less grave. The feeling evidently improves, and if the banks would meet the common wish, by corresponding indulgence, there would be an ease in every branch of trade, that has not been visible in several months. The bolls are beginning to open, and new bales will soon be coming in. When they are placed upon the market, Memphis will resume her acoustomed briskness, and move onward in her march of progress.

John Bryng, cook on the Ezra Porter, fell overboard on Wednesday last, in attempting to draw a bucket of water, near Osceola, and was drowned.

The Pauline Carroll and Virginia passed down for New Orleans yesterday morning.

The Mollie Hambleton is the regular Tuesday St. Francis river packet. She leaves to-day at five p.m.

The ship carpenters and caulkers employed on the Cairo dry docks have struck for four dollars per day. They have been receiving three dollars and fifty cents.

The Minnecola left Paducah yesterday at noon, and will arrive in port this evening and leave tomorrow evening for Cincinnati.

The Starlight is still sojourning in the Ohio. She had not arrived at Paducah up to yesterday morning.

Captain Bob Gibson's bay pony has run away from the City wharf-boat; but the last seen of him he was making tracks for the Memphis and Charleston railroad, in search of Bob.

Captain Morton, of the steamer Commercial, reports the crops on White river promising. The yield of the finest staple along White river is estimated at 30,000 bales. The corn crop is also reported in flourishing condition.

Captain Lary Harmstad received a dispatch from the Star light saying she would be in port to-day and leave to-morrow evening for Cincinnati.

The following steamers will comprise a regular Cincinnati and New Orleans packet line during the ensuing season: Somerald, Captain Shunk; Amazon, Captain Vinton; Swallow, Captain Joseph Scott; Westmoreland, Captain Evans; John A. Groesbeck, Captain Dan. Marsits; Alice Dean, Captain Ferguson; Monarch, Captain Oakes, and probably the Silver Spray, Captain Fenton.

The following dispatch explains itself:

WASHINGTON, D. C.

CAPTAIN FOLEM CALVERT: Will you accept the position of Secretary of Navy. Answer instantly.

ANDREW JOHNSON,
Executive Mansion.

Captain Folem Calvert, the popular agent of the Memphis & St. Louis Packet Company, received the above dispatch yesterday. Folem would like to serve in old Mother Wells' position, but he cannot be spared from this section of the country.

Omaha dispatches of the 23d says a terrible row occurred on board the steamer Mountaineer on the 16th, at Sioux City, between four deck hands who wished to leave the boat and the mate and the other hands. Pistol shots, knife thrusts, slungshots and blows were freely exchanged but with no fatal results. The ringleaders were arrested and fined.

The Gleaner, Captain King, is filling up fast for the Arkansas and will leave to-day, at five p.m. She is a No. 1 light draught boat and will go through. Mr. John Fenwick, a courteous gentleman, officiates in the office.

The Great Republic is to be placed on the ways at Mound City to receive some light repairs.

The Commercial, Captain Wm. Ashford, is the regular Tuesday White river mail packet; she is receiving at the foot of Court street for all points on White river, and leaves to-day, at five p.m. Her passenger accommodations are unsurpassed. Captain Morton, a gentleman noted for his urbanity and courtesy, has charge of the office. Half fare tickets for the round trip for the tournaments which comes off at Augusta on the 3d, and Searcy, on the 5th instant, can be had on the Commercial.

A dock hand, named Fitzgerald, on the steamer Pauline Carroll, got into a fight with two of the cooks, Sullivan and Smith, while laying at the wharf on Thursday, in the course of which Fitzgerald was thrown overboard and drowned.

Captain George Alcoke and Captain Frank Bachleor, contemplate engaging in the steamboat agency business, at Cincinnati.

The Natoma, Captain John Edson, is the regular Tuesday Vicksburg mail packet in place of the St. Patrick. She is receiving at the wharf for Vicksburg and all way points in the bends, and leaves to-day at five p.m. The Natoma is in charge of competent and reliable steamboatmen. Doctor Clay Rice, a clever and courteous gentleman presides in the office.

The Chamber of Commerce, in connection with the Board of Underwriters of Cincinnati, are using all their influence in opposition to the bill of lading recently gotten up and adopted by the Marine Association at Cincinnati, which is said by nearly all boats.

The City of Alton, in command of the popular and amiable gentleman, Captain Sam. McPheeters, leaves the wharf to-day at three p.m., for Cairo and St. Louis. The office is in charge of a clever and attentive clerk.

Captain Duffy, of the John McCuoe, was in the city yesterday. He contemplates placing his packet in the trade between Memphis and White river, leaving here every Thursday.

The Belle Memphis clears for St. Louis with a fair passenger trip.

The Henry Ames, from New Orleans for St. Louis, passed up yesterday morning. On her arrival at St. Louis she will be put on the ways and undergo a thorough overhauling preparatory to entering the Memphis and New Orleans trade. She will be repainted and receive an entire new outfit. Captain Frank Hicks has gone to St. Louis to superintend her repairs. She will leave here on her first trip on the 3d of October. Captain Frank Hicks is well known in the bends, and has won considerable fame and up a good reputation for the Ames. Captain Crawford, her late commander, a courteous and urbane gentleman and experienced steamboatman, will have charge of the office. She will be equipped in fine style and manned with a reliable and attentive crew. Captain Sam. Shock, one of the most popular and gentlemanly agents in the Southwest, has been selected as her passenger agent. Captain Shock has no superior in his profession. He is most favorably known as an old citizen, a gentleman of most agreeable manners, and brings to the position every adjunct to invite business.

The New Albany Ledger says Captain Joshua Wiley has negotiated for the purchase of the Plain City, and will run in connection with the Cairo Belle in the Yazoo river and Sunflower trade. Captain Wiley has been spending the summer in this city, and will, as soon as the trade is completed, bring the Plain City here for a thorough overhauling. The price settled upon is $600 cash.

The Worsham House is daily gaining prominence with the traveling public, and we can fully recommend it as a first class house.

FOR SALE—Part of Lot 55, fronting 25 feet on Chickasaw or Front street, running back 140½ feet to alley, with two story brick house on same. Terms, one-half cash, balance in twelve months with interest.

Our Southern Widows and Orphans

IT is the duty of every true Southern person to cast in a mite to the support of those who have been left in a dependent condition by the loss of a dear husband or an affectionate father, who laid down their lives in the defence of our once glorious but now lost cause!

And being impressed with a sense of this duty, I have determined to set apart, my one-fourth, of my net income for that purpose; and as my business is the publication and sale of the best class of Southern Literature, for which I have exclusive control of the States of Arkansas and Tennessee, and the counties of Washington, Hopkins, Attala, Wirt and Noxubee, and Scott county, Mississippi, I am of opinion that in the State of Mississippi, I may safely assert that the good people of said section are willing and will contribute in my discretion, and to this end I beg a gentleman or lady in every civil district, within the above territory, who feels an interest in the matter, and who will give a few weeks time, energy and influence to the business, to canvass their neighborhood districts for our standard Southern Historical Works. For such services we will allow a liberal commission on sales.

With the very best of citizens, and those who can and will take an active interest in our enterprise, to whom we refer in the following names, should they desire to make inquiries.

COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
TUESDAY, August 27, 1867.

TRADE—In the leading markets remains steady with a small local and shipping trade doing in plantation supplies. The markets are well supplied with little change in prices.

COTTON—The market on Saturday exhibited very little animation during the day. The demand was light with few transactions; prices were weak and unsettled, though holders were not disposed to press sales on the market. A few bales changed hands, with middling at 25@25½c; low middling at 23@24c; strict middling at 26@26½c; good ordinary at 22@22½c.

CORN—The market was flat with a small demand and a slight decline in prices. Choice white and yellow ruled $1 10@1 18; cornmeal firm at $5 50 per bbl on the levee, and $6 00 from store; oats rule steady at 65@67c; hay quiet; prime timothy 24@25c per ton; prime $20@21 per ton. Chickens active at $5@9 per dozen, for young and 7 to 8 for old. Butter firm; of choice there is none in market; fair to good at 25@28c; common, 18@20c. Eggs in demand at 22@25c, per dozen.

Phillips' Cincinnati provision circular of August 23d reports the market as follows:

The market for provisions has been quiet during the greater portion of the week, though towards the close, under more favorable advices from the East and leading Western points the market became firmer, and in some cases higher prices were paid. The extreme views of holders, however, to some extent restricted operations, and to-day there was but little done. The supposed damage to the corn crop in Kentucky and the Southern portions of Illinois, Ohio and Indiana has produced some inquiry of a speculative character, and consumers bought more freely in expectation of higher prices.

Mess pork sold early in the week at $25 25, but on Thursday advanced to $25 50, closing to-day with a good demand at this price; holders generally asking 25 to 50c more. There is very little country here; it is nominally held 25c less than city.

Lard—During the greater portion of the week sold at 12¼c for city kettled, but toward the close there arose a good demand, partly speculative, and prices advanced to 12¾c; free buyers at 12¾c. Country is quoted at 12¼c; keg without demand, nominal at 13¾c.

Bulk Meats—Are firmer and in good demand from smokers. Shoulders are in quest at 11c loose, but ¼c more asked. Sides advanced to 13¼c, but are difficult to buy under 13¾c. There is nothing doing in clear rib or clear sides. It is useless to give quotations.

Bacon—Is also firmer, with large sales during the week. Shoulders are now in demand at 12¾c, holders generally asking ½@¾c more. Rib sides are scarce, but out of smoke they are held at 14¾c. Clear rib are difficult to buy at less than 15¾c and and clear sides small sales were made to-day at these figures. Hams are dull at 18c for plain and 21@21½c for sugar cured.

Beef Hams—Dull at 19½@20c, canvassed and packed. Beef hams, in pickle, $21@22. Plate beef is scarce—held at $23 50@24.

Whisky—Dull at 30c in bond.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

From Robert Lockhart & Dempster's Circular of August 9:

No change of importance has occurred in our cotton market during the past week. Business in Manchester has been depressed, and prices of both yarns and cloths have given way, causing dullness in the market and a tendency to lower prices. During the last day or two, however, there has been more disposition to do business in Manchester, and some large contracts have been placed at low prices, which has produced a like tendency to do business in the market here. The quantity of American cotton offering being much less than for a long time past, prices of this description have steadily advanced, and close fully up to the quotations of this day week. Other kinds have been in very fair demand, and prices remain quite firm. Brazils are very freely offered, and must be quoted 4d per lb lower, with a good business passing at the following quotations: Fair Pernam, Bahia and Ceara, 12¾d; good do, 12¼d; fine do, 11¾d; good fair Maranham, 12¼d; fine do, 11¾d; good fair Egyptian, 14¼d; fine do, 13¾d; good fair Smyrna, 11¾d; fine do, 11¼d; good fair Bengal, 7¾d; fine do, 7¼d; good fair Madras, 11¾d; fine do, 11¼d; good fair Dhollerah, 8¾d; fine do, 8¼d; good fair Scinde, 8¾d; fine do, 8¼d; good fair Peruvian, 13¾d; fine do, 13¼d; good fair Vera Cruz, 12¾d; fine do, 12¼
